

FLEMMING RASMUSSEN JOINS AUDIO GROUP DENMARK

Ansuz, Aavik and Børresen Acoustics welcome Flemming Rasmussen as the new member of the Audio Group Denmark team.

Audio Group Denmark (comprising of the brands Ansuz, Aavik and Børresen Acoustics) is welcoming one of the greatest talents in the Hifi industry, Flemming Rasmussen, as a new member of their design and development team.

GRYPHON AUDIO DESIGN

For over 35 years, Flemming Rasmussen has created and made "dreams" come true with his artistic passion for Hifi equipment design, most notably at his own company, fellow Danish brand Gryphon Audio Design, from which he retired three years ago.

Despite his great successes, Flemming Rasmussen is still brimming with passionate drive, is extremely curious and explorative, and is dominated by a strong need to give free rein to his creativity.

In Flemming Rasmussen's own words: "When people ask me; what is your best design? I like to say; I haven't made it yet".

AUDIO GROUP DENMARK

Audio Group Denmark's overriding goal has always been to develop sophisticated Hifi equipment which offers an unrivalled musical authenticity.

Audio Group Denmark, firmly believe that, in the quest to unlock the full acoustic potential of music, we have so far only begun to scratch the surface. Beneath that surface, there still lies a vast, yet uncharted area just waiting to be discovered for the benefit of outstanding musical authenticity.

To explore these unknown areas of technology, design and innovation, Flemming Rasmussen is a perfect fit for Audio Group Denmark.

DESIGN DREAM TEAM

Lars Kristensen and Michael Børresen, together with Flemming Rasmussen have already embarked on developing some new and innovative audio equipment. . They are very much looking forward to sharing their results with the audio world in the near future. With Flemming Rasmussen on board, Audio Group Denmark transforms from an already strong team into a dream team. A dream team that says it is "now poised to make acoustic dreams come true".
